It seems an obvious starting point given the news this week to inform you of the school's position on the coronavirus update. We are being guided daily by Public Health England about the virus and until we get told any different, school will remain open. In the event of any changes, particularly if it is during a school day, any communication will be shared via e-mail, text, dojo and our facebook page. Please make sure we have your correct contact details by seeing the office staff.

Yesterday we had a lovely day celebrating World Book Day and it was lovely to see so many parents come in and join us for our reading activities. The children really enjoyed the pyjama day, and it was great to reiterate to them about the importance of reading. It strengthened relationships too within the school family, as our older children buddied up with our younger children to read them stories. A huge thank you to Mrs Berry for organising such a fantastic day.

A survey was sent out on Monday. It is really important to us that we hear your views of how well you think we are doing as a school, and what we can do to further improve. We can't do this unless we hear from you. Please take time out of your day to answer the survey - it should only take five minutes or so. I have asked the children to pester you all this weekend - we only have until next Friday before the survey ends.

Can I remind parents that at the end of the school day, children should not be riding around on scooters, particularly school ones. They often get left lying in the playground and not put back properly, and accidents happen.

And finally, today is Mrs Gleed's final day (temporarily) as she awaits the new arrival to the Gleed family. We all wish her well and can not wait to meet the new addition when HE arrives!

Have a wonderful weekend. Please do try to get to Mass and say prayers for those who are struggling at this time of year.

God Bless,

Mr M Dyson
